Internship program

Our focus is on making sure students graduate job ready. Macleay offers a mentored program where students work with leading organisations, businesses and agencies, providing an enviable list of professional contacts before they even graduate.

We've seen countless internships lead to full-time roles for students after graduation.

Modern campus and facilities

Our Surry Hills campus provides students with a unique learning and lifestyle experience. Nestled in Sydney's creative hub, Macleay College is surrounded by Australia's leading news organisations, advertising agencies and innovative start-ups.

Our learning environment fosters a creative and innovative learning through our newsroom, television and radio studios, entrepreneurship spaces and computer labs. Macleay College students work on live briefs for clients, pitch to real investors, and write, produce, film and edit multimedia news pieces in a real newsroom, all using facilities on our campus.
