ABOUT

Melbourne Institute of Technology – MIT Sydney offers a range of programs in Business, Accounting, Marketing, Management, Information Technology and Computer Networking at undergraduate (university pathway Diplomas and Bachelor degrees) and postgraduate levels.

MIT takes pride in its growing reputation as a higher education provider emphasising teaching quality and a good student experience. It provides an innovative curriculum which covers both theoretical and practical knowledge, helping you develop a successful career in your chosen field.

Students benefit from smaller class sizes and guidance from highly qualified teaching staff. Small tutorial groups make individual attention possible, with a focus on an understanding of both practical and theoretical knowledge. Tutorial and assignment work involves applying industry-relevant applications and case studies, which, in turn, require the development of critical employability skills such as communication and analysis, cultural awareness and a commitment to ethical standards. These skills are most relevant in the global context and contribute to you becoming a graduate who is work-ready and able to immediately add value to employers in any location worldwide.

Our courses are accredited by professional bodies such as CPA Australia, the Institute of Chartered Accountants and the Australian Computer Society.

MIT has three trimesters in one academic year – each trimester being the equivalent of one traditional semester. Undertaking three trimesters in a year allows you to complete a three-year degree in just two years, which means you will be working while other people are still studying. The trimester system also allows you to spread a traditional two-semester year over three trimesters – doing fewer units in each trimester in order to manage your work and personal commitments. Another option is to use the November trimester to catch up on units you weren't able to complete in previous trimesters.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Read section 6 in Part 1 for general information about admission requirements, including English language proficiency.

Admission requirements are the minimum qualifications you need before you can be selected for admission to a course of study.

As an international student completing one of the following qualifications in 2017, you will apply for admission through UAC and will generally be selected on the basis of your performance in these studies (ie your ATAR or equivalent):

- an Australian Year 12 qualification (either outside or in Australia)
- an International Baccalaureate (IB) Diploma
- a New Zealand National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) Level 3.

When assessing your application, MIT may take any or all of your qualifications or attempts at study into account.

Limited ATAR

MIT accepts the Limited ATAR for selection purposes – read section 3.4.

International applicants applying for admission on the basis of qualifications other than those listed above must apply directly to MIT, not through UAC. Visit mit.edu.au.
