ABOUT

The University of Canberra (UC) is a high-growth, emerging university that values innovation and collaboration. It is a university with a global focus and strong international links, including partnerships with universities around the world.

For a young university, we have already achieved so much. We are ranked in the top 4 per cent of universities globally by both Times Higher Education and QS World University Rankings.

You'll find our staff inspiring and encouraging, and they'll spend a lot more time with you than you may have imagined. It's this sort of personal attention that positions our graduates among the most sought after and highly paid in the country.

Learning is not all academic at UC. Our strong emphasis on work integrated learning gives you valuable experience in the workplace before you even graduate. The hands-on work experience we offer lets you put theory into practice and is an important reason why we were consistently ranked among Australia's top universities for 'Getting a Job' and 'Starting Salary' in the Good Universities Guide.

We don't intend to rest on our laurels though. Our plan is to become one of Australia's most innovative tertiary institutions, and we are well on our way after being ranked in the top 100 universities in the world under the age of 50.

As a young, creative and energetic university, we'll continue to progress and grow to meet the changing needs of our students. Our plan contains a number of ambitious strategies for improvement and development.

Our Canberra campus will be the engine room from which we provide tertiary education for local communities and, in partnership with other institutions, to students around Australia and the world. Combined with a commitment to greater global influence, this will see us become world leaders in both research and teaching.

We've got big plans, as you can see. Why don't you become part of them?
